"When I commenced taking your medicines, eighteen months ago, my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Cora L. Sunderland, of Chaneyville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room without pains in my chest. The ductor who attended me said I had lang trouble, and that I would never be usell again. At last I conclined to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I hought a bottle of Golden Medical Discovery' took it, and soon commenced to feel a little better, then you directed me to take both the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did. Allogether I have taken eighteen bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' twelve of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and five vials of 'Fellets.' I am now almost entirely well, and do all my work without any pain whatever, and can rum with more ease than I could formerly math."

It was taken from the federal courts by the act of Congress of 1831, which act deprives these courts of the common-law power to protect by this process their suitors, wit-ness, officers and themselves against the libel of the press, though published and circulated during the trial of a case therein. * * *

"That newspapers sometimes engage in unwarranted criticism of the courts cannot be denied. In some instances they construe the liberty of the press as a license to authorize them to engage in wholesale abuse of the court, but these instances are rare, and do not warrant a departure from the well-settled principles of the law as declared by Congress and construed by the courts. If judges charg-ed with the administration of the law are not to be criticised on account of their own conduct the liberty of the press is abridged and the rights of individuals

For instance, if a newspaper should publish an article concerning a trial which was being considered by a jury and should send a copy of the paper containing such article to the jury or a member thereof, during the progress of the trial, for the purpose of influencing them in their decision it would present a question whether such conduct would not be misbehavior in the presence of the court or so near thereto as to obstruct the court or so near thereto as to obstruct the administration of justice. * * *

in form of insects from chemical compounds is claimed to have been accomplished and demonstrated at Anderson, Ind., yesterday by Dr. Charles W. Littlefield, a local scientist. Profession-al men witnessed the demonstrations, which were repeated for the benefit o skeptics. The scientist declined to make public the analysis of his solution, but stated that one of his compounds was as near to protoplasm as possible, while the other consisted of common salt, aqua ammonia and /alcohol, the union of the compounds arresting and con-trolling vibration of luminiferous either and producing animal life. A few drops of milkwhite fluid were placed in an airtight case, and with the aid of a mi-croscope of 250 diameters there were visible innumerable minute black objects apparently boiling in the liquid, then arising and flying or running wildly about the case. During one experiment the apparatus suddenly became affame, between the chamical and the chamical areas of the chamical and the chamical and the chamical and the chamical areas of the chamical and the destroying one case of the chemical-made insects. Dr. Littlefield will undertake to nourish the strange insects into a higher culture, to ascertain whether they will propagate. About one year ago Scientist Littlefield claimed to have developed atoms of lifegerms from crystals of salt subjected to distilled water, aqua ammonia and alcohol, and since that time has experimented to produce a higher form of life from chemical solutions.

Judge Pritchard's opinion is a careful and comprehensive review of the law as applied to newspaper utterances that might be construed as contempt of court. The opinion says that, in order to determine whether the petitioner is entitled to the relief prayed for in his writ, it is necessary to determine two questions: (1) Did the court which imposed the sentence in this case have
